

Migration, Population & Agenda 2030

Collaborating to achieve the SDGs for all through the Perspectives of Migrants & Refugees

The 2030 agenda's robust and ambitious dream, 'leave no one behind,' cannot be met without its realization for all, especially vulnerable populations of migrants and refugees, those of irregular and undocumented status. This side event will show how prevalent development and other social policies neglect the living conditions, human dignity and human rights of irregular and undocumented migrants. The speakers will respond to the reasons behind the lack of data on this population and suggest practical ways of promoting coordination in achieving improved effective data collection systems necessary for guiding policy-making on implementing, monitoring and reviewing the sustainable development goals in service of the common good and the dignity of every person.

Speakers

Date: April 12, 2016

Time: 1.15pm – 2.45pm

Venue: Conference Room
11, UN HQ

To attend,
please RSVP by April 10 at [holyseemission.org/
rsvpApril12](http://holyseemission.org/rsvpApril12)

H.E. Archbishop Bernardito Auza, Holy See Permanent Observer to the United Nations:
Opening Remarks

H.E. Ashraf El Nour, International Organization on Migration Permanent Observer to the United Nations

Sister Sue Wilson, CSJ, Director, Office of Systemic Change, Federation of Sister of St.
Joseph, Canada

Rev. Anthony Benedetto Pizzo, OSA, Clergy for immigrants' rights and integration, Chicago

Sister Eileen McCann, CSJ, Immigration Lawyer, Brentwood Sisters of St. Joseph, New York

Tom Cunningham, Organizational Psychologist, Driehaus Business School, DePaul
University Chicago

Moderator: Rev. Emeka Obiezu, OSA, UN Representative, Curia Generalizia Agostiniana

Permanent Observer Mission of the Holy See to the UN

Augustinians International

NGO Committee on MIGRATION